

WE NOMINATE

Richard Kenneth Greenfield, the able and hard-driving President of Mercer County Community College, whose plans for the ongoing development of this highly promising two-year institution took a long step into the future last week with the ground-breaking ceremonies in West Windsor Township for the College's $21-million campus. While the success and impact of education cannot be measured in terms of hard cash and physical plant, it is reassuring to know that by 1971 a thoughtfully conceived 292-acre campus will have a capacity of 3,000 full-time students and a potential for 6,000 students by the turn of the 21st century.

Ever since he was called to Mercer County in 1966, and established his home in Princeton (3 Honey Brook Drive), this 43-year old native of New York City, the son of a distinguished teacher and administrator in Manhattan schools, has been derricking MCC into a position of leadership among the nation's community colleges. Its programs of study have been steadily and dramatically broadened, particularly in areas of primary concern to the region the College seeks to serve. For instance, the expansion of the business curricula has been accomplished by the introduction of a program for laboratory technicians and a two-year nursing program.

Greenfield's first graduating class in the spring of 1968 numbered some 180, a figure that mushroomed to approximately 300 last month and a year hence may well approach 450. Of significance, and indicative of his belief that one of the major jobs of the College is to provide understanding guidance for those students as yet undecided about the future, or as to whether or not they wish to continue their education, are the statistics for Mercer's first nursing class. Next June 38-10 members of an entering contingent of 53 are expected to qualify as registered nurses, an infinitely better attrition rate than compiled by long-established hospital nursing schools.

So busy over the past three years that he has had no time for his interests in golf, tennis and swimming, and relatively few hours for his normally extensive reading in history, with stress on Colonial America, Greenfield is one of the handful of American educators who has devoted his entire career to teaching and administration in community colleges. His undergraduate studies at Cornell, which were interrupted by World War II, and his graduate work at Columbia in education were followed by 15 years at New York City Community College, originally the State Technical Institute, where for six years he served as Dean of the Faculty.

In 1963 Greenfield, now the father of two sons and two daughters, accepted the challenges of the presidency of New York's Sullivan Community College. When he landed on the campus of the up-state New York college, there were exactly 75 full-time students; three years later, as he departed for Trenton and Princeton, the enrollment had increased ten-fold and Greenfield had gained invaluable experience for assuming direction of a brand-new institution initially deriving its strength from a struggling Trenton Junior College and a non-political board of trustees dominated by concerned Mercer County residents.

For insisting that Mercer's doors remain open to any high school graduate "who has any interest in a given area and at least a minimal capacity to learn"; for feeling that his role as Mercer's President is a "continuous learning experience," one he would not trade for anything else; he is TOWN TOPICS' nominee as

Houbolt's Plan Made Moon Landing Possible

Amid all the euphoria that flowed in the wake of man's successful round-trip to the moon, it is no overstatement to compare Princeton's John Houbolt to Italy's Christopher Columbus. Both have a place in history because they held fast to their scientific beliefs in the face of scorn from their contemporaries. Columbus insisted that the world was round, not flat, and tried to prove his point. John Houbolt worked for the better part of the 12-year old Space Age in the face of scorn in charge of the Apollo Program that a Lunar Orbit Rendezvous was the surest (and most economical way) to place a man on the moon. At 11:47 A.D. Sunday afternoon, he, too, proved his point.

In a sense, Dr. Houbolt had the most difficult job. In the 15th century, there were no qualified experts to tell Columbus he was wrong, but in 1961, when President Kennedy committed the U.S. to putting a man on the moon before the decade ended, rocketry was an established science, and the experts in the field were highly regarded as men of superior knowledge. Among them was Werner von Braun, who had started to study the implications of rockets in Germany when young John Houbolt still had a few years to go to become a teen-ager.

The von Braun theory, once believed to be the most practical, was known as "Earth Orbit Rendezvous." It held that two rockets should be fired almost simultaneously, one carrying the spacecraft itself, the other extra fuel. Following contact while still in earth orbit, the spacecraft would then head for the moon. A variation from this theme, espoused by other respected scientists, urged landing fuel on the moon's surface for the return trip—a particularly hazardous procedure, as handling objects with a sixth of earth's gravity eventually demonstrated.

Writing in The New York Times last week of the long campaign to have his Lunar Orbit Rendezvous plan adopted, Dr. Houbolt said:

"When you approach the moon in the main space craft or 'base living room', why take the whole living room down to the surface with you?"

"Why not leave it on orbit and descend to the lunar surface in a small landing craft, then come back and rejoin the main living quarters by means of a rendezvous operation?"

THE APOLLO WATCH
And a Feeling of Wonder. Explorers on the moon, the great milestone in science that few adults really believed would happen in their lifetime—held the community in a state of suspense. The sets for all possible moment for most of the past week. Princetonians, together with the world itself, were impressed and appreciative of the Apollo 11 achievement. They lingered at home to watch the take-off on Wednesday, and then straggled off late to work. TV sets appeared in offices, and watchers began the daily check of telecast schedules, gradually rising to an astounded awareness that the astronauts would land on the moon ahead of the original plan. At peak hours, traffic was minimal on Princeton streets.

The great impact came at 10:56 P.M. EDT on Sunday when Neil A. Armstrong set foot on the moon, three and one-half days after the Cape Kennedy launch. First words at the new Tranquility Base: "One small step for man, a giant leap for mankind."

People watched, nearly incredulous, as the two astronauts moved with floating strides across the lunar surface. They heard that the earth looked "bright and beautiful" and saw the American flag and scientific instruments moved into place.

On Monday, bleary-eyed, nearly overwhelmed by four days and five nights of telecast-space diagrams, simulated moon landings and take-offs, explanations and comments by distinguished scientists, people still hovered over the TV sets at midday for news of the pending trip back home. Word of the mooncraft Eagle's successful rendezvous with Columbia, the mother craft orbiting the moon, brought sighs of relief.

Fascination and Disbelief. TOWN TOPICS sought reactions to the moon landing from the man in the street. Not unexpectedly, many used such words as "unbelievable," "fantastic," and "disbelief" to describe their emotions.

Most of those interviewed were also asked whether they thought the United States should continue to press forward in its space exploration when many have pointed out that the funds involved could be better spent solving the problems of war and poverty here on earth.

Virtually all who answered thought the U.S. should continue. "Continue!" The hell with the rest. How are we ever going to find out

Firm in the belief that his concept of a moon landing could be accomplished in a shorter time and with much less expense, Dr. Houbolt and his associates began months of missionary work among the men who would make the ultimate decision. Reaction ranged, he reported, from "those who thought we had gone off the deep end to direct hostility."

Eventually, it was a comprehensive two-volume report presented to NASA that provided the necessary persuasion. So detailed was the document in matters of scheduling, funding and development that it became classified material, but among those at the top of NASA, Dr. Houbolt comments, it became a "best seller."

Official adoption of the LOR concept in 1962 still left "influential holdouts" opposing the scheme. "But seven years later, the Houbolt plan is credited with being instrumental in achieving the goal of a man on the moon during the present decade, and with reducing overall expense possibly by as much as $15 billion."

Senior vice-president of the Aeronautical Research Association, whose headquarters are at Princeton Junction, Dr. Houbolt, his wife and three daughters, live at 105 Elm Road. He made it to Cape Kennedy for the Apollo 11 launching, flew back to Princeton after collecting his family, was in Houston to observe NASA's judgment of the landing and the start of the return trip home.

what's going on if we don't," said truck driver Wilson Esposito of 196 John Street. "If we are going to spend money, we might as well spend it on the moon."

Asked if he would like to go to the moon, he replied, "No, I just want to drive a truck. I just for the moon landing itself. Fascinating! I watched it all. I've got TV eyes."

Isaac Bulbus, a lecturer in the Department of Politics at Princeton University, prefaced his remarks by saying he had "mixed feelings" about it. "On one hand, I think it was a crowning achievement of man's eternal struggle against recalcitrant nature. Unfortunately," he continued, "my enthusiasm for the event is dimmed by the view that this struggle has always entailed the exploitation of man by his fellow man."

"No, never!" replied Township Ptl. Walter Emann when asked if he thought that he would ever see men land on the moon in his lifetime. "I was a nervous wreck," he added. "You shouldn't watch things like that."

Had Faith in Success. A Presbyterian minister from Lawrenceville, Ernest Williams, on the other hand, after saying he was "very excited" about Apollo 11, added, "I'm not as surprised as a lot of people. I thought for a long time we could do it." He also said he had the country go on with its space exploration. "In the long run, I think most people will be more than by diverting the same amount of money to trying to solve problems here."

Martin Krone, a graduate student in electrical engineering, remarked that he probably saw the moon landing in a different way than most. Said he: "I'm an engineer myself, so I'm hard to believe that all those millions of components from all those different companies worked so well together. When asked about the future, he said, 'Yes, I think we ought to continue the space program—among other things. I agree that some money has been misdirected but I don't see anything on next page."

think space is in that category.

TOWN TOPICS also asked Mr. Krone his opinion of Neil Armstrong's first words. "I thought they were pretty clever," he said, adding that considering the space suit he was in and the work to be done, "This was no time for any oration."

Start of New Era? Does Apollo 11 signify the beginning of a new era? TOWN TOPICS asked Princeton taxi driver David Gomez. "I think it opens the door for a new era, but I don't know how far we will go. I think man can go about as far as anything he sets his mind to."

Mr. Gomez described the event of man on the moon as "the most incredible thing that has ever happened in this century." Did he expect it would ever happen in his lifetime? "Not really, no. Not until the last few years."

"More than anything, it's just hard to believe," said graduate student Paul O. Weislogel of Lawrence Apartments. "I hardly know what to say," said his attractive wife, standing next to him. "It's the most momentous thing to hit my mind. I was fascinated watching the whole thing. Ev-

Moon Fare

A ticket to the moon is currently quoted at $14,000 one way.

"We had a few calls about that last year, American Express said on Tuesday, but nothing in the last few days."

Culipits Travel Agency in Princeton Junction closed on Monday to observe the holiday, putting a sign in the window. "Open tomorrow for trips to the moon!" And at Princeton Travel Service, Nancy Meyers has received no requests for moon travel. "But I heard of a man who wants a round trip for himself and a one way for his mother-in-law."

Mr. Gomez described the event of man on the moon as "the most incredible thing that has ever happened in this century."

Did he expect it would ever happen in his lifetime? "Not really, no. Not until the last few years."

"More than anything, it's just hard to believe," said graduate student Paul O. Weislogel of Lawrence Apartments. "I hardly know what to say," said his attractive wife, standing next to him. "It's the most momentous thing to hit my mind. I was fascinated watching the whole thing. Ev-

Because man's first step on the moon took place some four hours earlier than previously programmed, younger people like Jeff Smith and Peter Kerney, seventh graders at Valley Road School, were able to watch it. It is possible they may take the trip themselves some day.

"Yes, I'd like to go some day if I could," said Pete. "I'd be a little afraid but I'd still go. No, he didn't think the surface of the moon looked any different than the clouds. It would look like Jeff, he thought the whole thing was 'great.'"

Jeff thought it was amazing the way the lunar module was able to slow down as gently as it did just before it landed. To him, the most exciting part of the landing was when Commander Armstrong started to get out and his image first flashed on the screen. Jeff is also a candidate for future moon trips.

For retired tool and die maker John Wacela of Hightstown, it was "a big achievement for the United States. It's almost beyond my ability to understand," he added. "The next step now is Mars. The cost will be tremendous. I heard $400 billion. That's some money! Should we spend that much? That's the question. You know who will have to pay for it."

Like Science Fiction. Mrs. Beverly Pickett of Loetscher Place, compared Apollo 11 to something out of science fiction. Even as she was watching it on television, she said, she couldn't believe what was happening in front of her eyes. "I think, it's unbelievable. Fantastic!"

"I hope they all get back safely. That's my main concern right now." Should the U.S. continue? "Absolutely."

Utter amazement was the feeling of Harry Currie, a teacher from Montreal, Canada. "I sat there in a feeling of disbelief that this was actually happening in front of my eyes."

As to whether the moon program was worth all the money that had been spent on it, he said, "Some fish had to be the first to come out of the ocean, and as long as that was the case, the force that haled to humanity, it really means that man must go on until he finds out whatever there is to find out."

First Words Very Good. A student from Griggstown, Madeleine Nist, said that while her brother stayed up till 3 a.m. watching it, "I only stayed up to watch them take the first step because I was so curious as to what Armstrong was going to say." She said she felt his quotation was "very good." She also felt that while the country should continue with its space spending, "I think it should put more money into poverty programs, too."

Miss Jennifer Clark of Rocky Hill, a part-time clerk at LaVake Jewelers, thought Armstrong's first words were "very appropriate." The fact that everything about Apollo 11 went so smoothly impressed her, but that first step — "that was the most marvelous thing."

Is this the dawn of a new era? "It's hard to say," she replied. "I think we have to go further into space, not just to the moon. This is just a first step, as Armstrong said."

Miss Anne Merce, a student at Westminster Choir College, working as a secretary for Walter B. Howe during the summer, felt the landing was "quite fantastic." She added that she supposed that when would land on the moon in her lifetime because "I have grown up with it. I didn't think it was actually impossible, but this is really marvelous."

"Fantastic! I didn't believe it," said Mrs. Michele Poinsett of Trenton, who stayed up to watch it until 12:30. Asked if she would someday be willing to take a trip to the moon, she hesitated for a moment and then said, "Yes, I'll go. I'll try it!"

SCHOOL SITE APPROVED
For inclusion on Master Plan. The Township Planning Board adopted a resolution Tuesday night to amend the community facilities section of the Master Plan designating the Hall-Hutson lots as a future school site.

Included in the motion was a provision that if the referendum needed to appropriate the funds should fail, the school board should request that the Snowden Lane site be removed from the Master Plan. The board also indicated that while it found no objection to the site, it could make no specific recommendation on its acceptability, because insufficient material was presented with respect to its suitability, desirability or uniqueness.

Two members of the school board, Dr. William Marvel and Dr. Harvey Rothberg, appeared before the planning board last week to explain why it had been selected. The site was approved by several residents of the area.

The resolution passed, 4-1, with two abstentions, cast by Mayor John D. Wallace and T. Burnett Fisher. Mayor Wallace explained last week that he had considered buying the property, until the school board's plans became known. Mr. Fisher, a neighbor of the site, has opposed the school board's plan, and has not sat in on any discussions about it.

The lone dissenting vote was cast by Walter B. Foster Jr., who commented later that he felt the school board had not sufficiently shown a need for a school in that area. He said that projected school population figures used by Dr. Marvel had been presented to the planning board in discussions held two years ago, and he believed them to be somewhat out of date and inaccurate. He said the board should have done more research on these projections, instead of using the same figures two years later.

Sheehan Wins Approval. Stalled a week ago in his plans to develop his 93-acre Oak Hill subdivision as a cluster development, Timothy J. Sheehan won a conditional approval from the board to proceed and to begin road and sewer construction.

Mindful of the fact that this will be the first cluster development in the Township, some board members wanted to proceed with extra caution, and hold off approval until Gordon Griffin, the township's attorney, had a chance to work out the titling of the 49 acres of open space. Mr. Griffin had indicated that he wanted more time to study what had been done in other municipalities.

However, Mr. Fisher commented that it seemed unfair to hold up the project and have Mr. Sheehan lose two months of prime construction time because of a legal technicality. Mr. Sheehan would have had to wait until the board's September meeting, if approval had not been granted.

In the end, the board voted 4-3 to let Mr. Sheehan begin work on roads and sewers with two preceding conditions: that the legal technicalities be resolved and that the project be approved by the Mercer County Planning Commission. Mr. Sheehan's final plan for 18 lots was adjourned until the September 8 meeting.

Hardships of Pioneering. Princeton Theological Seminary found out, as chairman Hans Sander put it, "the disadvantages of being a pioneer." The institution has plans for a cluster development of its own, including 34 lots for senior faculty and administration members and accompanying open space, on Mt. Lucas Road.

The Seminary's attorney, Frank P. Reiche, outlined three major problems: the ownership and maintenance of the open space, sewers and roads. Sewers will eventually be extended to the Seminary property, but an agreement with Rocky Hill and Montgomery Township must be worked out first, because the treatment plant in the area could not handle the additional load.

The Seminary also learned that the board is not certain about proposed roads in the area: which ones need to be built and the exact locations for them. Since, among other things, the Seminary would have to pay part of the cost, this question must also be resolved before it can proceed. The road subcommittee of the planning board will meet when members return from vacation to discuss the matter and then may meet with the Seminary.

The Seminary, which has been waiting for two years to Miss Haines, a Vassar College graduate and a school teacher for nearly 20 years, has been a resident guest at Merwick since 1957 and had a one-man showing of her watercolors and oils there in 1958. Mr. Borden said his gallery plans to provide additional prints and hopes that the hospital may eventually have a loan service for all patients.

launch its project, is hopeful of having the first units completed for occupancy by the summer of 1970.

Officials of Park Lane Company failed to appear before the board to discuss their plans for a three-office building complex, also to be located on Mt. Lucas Road. The board had received a report from the Environmental Design Review Committee, which did not recommend approval or disapproval, because of a lack of information on the plans. The board dismissed the plan without prejudice, because of the lack of required information, and suggested revised plans be submitted.

Princeton Car Wash received approval for several modifications of its original site plan. A shorter entrance route would be created on days when business is light, a traffic island added between the entrance and exit lanes, and a fence on the south and east sides of the property reduced from six to four feet.

He is survived by his wife Miriam, and two daughters, Ellen and Susan, both at home, his mother, Mrs. Lena B. Goldberg, and two brothers David and Saul, all of Florida. The service was held at the Kimble Funeral Home.

SIX ARE INJURED
In Kingston Bridge Crash. Six persons received a collection of contusions, lacerations and abrasions when their cars collided Monday morning, 56 minutes after midnight, on the Kingston Bridge.

In one car were Harry J. Gildar, 56, and Jerome S. Gildar, 28, both of 12 Shady Brook Lane. The driver of the second car was Clifton G. Geeston Jr., 19, of Neptune. The passengers were Douglas Feacher, 18, and Rodney L. Lawson, 18, both of Neptune, and Linda E. Queen, 18, of Philadelphia.

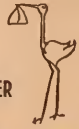

Mr. Geeston was ticketed by Ptl. Anthony Gaylord for failure to keep right. He told the officer that the curve approaching the bridge was sharper than he had anticipated. The entire front end of his car was damaged.

Damage to a car driven by Harold J. Weingartner, 50, of Oceanside, N. Y., was described as total by Township police, following a collision of his car with another Saturday on Route 206 and Cherry Hill Road.

Mr. Weingartner's wife, Helen, 47, received contusions of both knees. Another passenger, Donna Weingartner, 22, of Island Park, N. Y., sustained contusions to her knees and forehead.

Hide M. Haynes, the second driver, was charged with careless driving by Ptl. David Cromwell, after a witness told him that the Haynes car had suddenly made a left turn directly in front of the Weingartner car coming north on 206.

A Canadian High
Is better than Jaw!

Seven days to go this month, and if they are no better than most of them have been, no one will be sorry.

The rain and drizzle and low pressure of the last few days are expected to linger through part of Thursday-Friday will bring gradual clearing, heat and humidity. The weekend won't be much different. Bring on August and that traditional Canadian High!

Kathy Hayes, 12, received injuries to her right knee and left leg. All were treated at Princeton Hospital and released.

Ticketed Twice. In the Borough, Esma Hutchings, 56, 3 Lytle Street, was charged with driving an unsafe car and driving while on the revoked list by Ptl. William Hunter, after an unusual accident Saturday morning on Witherspoon Street.

Mr. Hutchings told Ptl. Hunter he had been working on his 1961 convertible parked in a drive at 198 Witherspoon Street. The car had lain idle for a long time, he said. When he started the car, he continued, it shot forward at a high rate of speed.

It careened out of the drive, crossed the street and tore up a portion of a wall in front of 201 Witherspoon Street, damaging, in addition, some concrete steps and part of the lawn.

The car then made a 180 degree turn and shot down Lytle Street, striking the rear of a car parked in front of 7 Lytle before coming to a halt. In his report, Ptl. Hunter said that he checked the car and found it had no brakes and its tires were bald. Mr. Hutchings escaped injury.

TO LEND YOU MONEY FOR ANY WORTHWHILE PURPOSE

All too often families and businesses get the impression that borrowing money is a one-way street. That only loan applicants need be checked and interviewed and scrutinized. We don't feel that way at Princeton's First National. We think you should feel free to ask us some questions and give us a careful going-over before you apply for a loan, because where you borrow makes a big, big difference. Stop in today at any of our offices (there are Loan Officers waiting to be looked over at all three) and ask about a loan. Whether you need money for a new car, a major appliance, home improvements, business purposes or whatever, we'd be happy to serve you. And honored, too.

110 Stockton Street, was taken in an ambulance to Princeton Hospital where she was treated for a whiplash injury, after her car was struck from behind early Friday afternoon at Stockton and Hibben Road. P. J. Hunter charged Edward B. Zimmer, 57, 6 Greenwood Avenue, Lawrenceville, with careless driving. Mr. Zimmer told police that his eyes were diverted for a moment by some workmen who were taking measurements on the south curb of Stockton. When he looked back, the Lapsley car had stopped to make a left turn onto Hibben Road and he was unable to stop in time.

Mrs. Lapsley told police the impact had pushed her car into the opposite lane and she narrowly missed a head-on collision with oncoming traffic.

Thursday morning, shortly before 11, a car and motorcycle collided at the crash-scattered intersection of Elm and Rosedale Road. The cyclist, Richard C. Markman, 29, 2607 Main Street, Lawrenceville, was taken by the First Aid and Rescue Squad to Princeton Hospital. He received a shoulder separation.

Sgt. Robert A. Anderson charged Mrs. Jacqueline F. Mislow, 34, of 538 Rosedale, with the stop-sign violation. According to Sgt. Anderson, Mrs. Mislow told him she saw the motorcycle approaching on her right but thought she had time to cross the intersection. The cyclist struck the left rear fender of her car.

BUS GARAGE UNDER FIRE
Township to Investigate. In response to a petition by some 150 to 200 residents of the John Street, Leigh and Birch Avenue area, the Township will investigate the activities at the Suburban Transit bus garage located at 285 John Street.

Residents of the area charge in the petition brought before Township Committee Monday night that the garage is first of all a health hazard, because exhaust fumes from the buses slip into some of the nearby houses. The narrow and heavily traveled streets present a safety hazard when traveled by the buses, which they have a hard time making turns.

The residents also report a distortion of their radio and television reception by the two-way radio contact used between the garage and the drivers en route. Finally, they charge the constant noise of the motors, which begins at 5 a.m., is a violation of the Township's new anti-noise ordinance.

Mayor John D. Wallace commented that the history of this MAN OF THE WEEK: Richard K. Greenfield, President of Mercer County Community College, for his guidance of the rapidly-growing institution as it breaks ground for a $21-million campus in West Windsor Township.

garage has not been particularly pleasant and that the Township has not had all the cooperation it should have in the past. Gordon Griffin, Township attorney, and W. Joseph Shinn, the building inspector, were directed to look into the matter.

Four ordinances, one prohibiting parking on part of John Street, a second eliminating 15-minute parking on part of Henry Avenue, a third widening Guyot Avenue between Ewing Street and Linden Lane, and the fourth providing for the construction of sidewalks on Guyot between the same two streets, were passed unanimously in rapid order, with little public comment.

Also passed without dissent was the ordinance aimed at junk cars. Tabled two weeks ago when William Cherry questioned the penalty clause, the ordinance was found to be essentially correct by Mr. Griffin.

The law sets a fine of up to $200 and up to 90 days in jail for each day of violation. Cars may be left on public lots for more than 48 hours, or more than 30 days on private property.

A request by Hunt and Augustine to put up a three-year bond in lieu of building a section of road between the Great Road and the Johnson Park Road will be studied by Committee. The firm had originally agreed to build the road when it first started to develop the land next to Winfield Road.

Governor and Mrs. Richard J. Hughes have an option to buy a lot at Winfield and the Great Road.

The Traffic Safety Committee has recommended striking out the name Hartley Avenue between Harrison Street and Broadmead and renaming it Faculty Road, since there is no reason for one continuous street suddenly to change names. Since Faculty Road is owned by the University, Gordon Griffin was instructed to determine how this might be done.

Pierco, Inc. of Somerset has made a low bid of $15,691.49 for the resurfacing of various Township roads.

TWO YOUTHS TREATED
For Heroin Overdoses. Two more cases of apparent overdoses of heroin have been reported by Borough police, one involving a 17-year-old Borough youth, the second a 20-year-old Township resident. Both have been released from Princeton Hospital following treatment.

Lt. Michael Carnevale said that he could not release the name of the 20-year-old because police charges against both were in the process of being drawn up. Sgt. John J. Bellows is handling both investigations, he said.

The overdoses were separate incidents. The older youth, police said, was talking to friends on a porch Friday when he passed out. The second took place last Wednesday at the home of the 17-year-old.

"At this time, we felt heroin was the drug being used," Lt. Carnevale commented.

Police were notified of the overdoses in one case by a call from Princeton Hospital and in the other by a call from the Princeton First Aid and Rescue Squad. Both occurred in the Borough.

16 FINED $10 EACH
Under New Dog Ordinance. Sixteen township residents were fined $10 each last week in Township Court for allowing their dogs to run loose in violation of the new Township restraint ordinance. All pleaded guilty.

In addition, Judge Burton Peskin suspended the sentence of three for extenuating circumstances. A charge against Thomas Ruth of 626 Lake Drive was dismissed for lack of evidence.

Paying fines were: George R. Ferguson, 38 Crooked Tree Lane; Paul Colby, 28 Overbrook Drive; Marvin R. Blumenthal, 71 Adams Drive; Sigurd Steinthorsson, 414-A Devereux Avenue; Theodore P. McNulty, 9 Marion Road; Dr. Martin Eshkov, 72 Adams Drive; T. Barnett Fisher, 342 Snowden Lane; John Zeiler,

$2,000 DONATION TO PRINCETON HOSPITAL: Martin H. Schmidt (right), vice-president for administration of F. R. Smith & Sons, presents a $2,000 check to George W. Coover, president of the Board of Trustees of Princeton Hospital. The check is in support of the hospital's annual fund appeal, a drive to meet capital financial needs. The goal this year is $325,000.

157 Poe Road; Charles R. Stahl, 548 Stockton Street; and Sol Davidson, 107 Library Place. Also, Frank F. Reeder, 3 Trenton, were dismissed, because, the Judge ruled, the police found no stolen articles in their possession at the time of their arrest. A second charge of shoplifting at the Ladybug, 16 Nassau, against Fleming was dismissed when the complainant failed to appear.

Those whose fines were suspended are Malcolm Dremer, 30 Castle Howard Court; John Donahue, 108 Herronstown Road; and C. Harry Kahn, 20 Linden Lane.

In the only traffic case involving a Princeton area motorist, Clarence Howard of 214 Birch Avenue was fined $10 for driving without a license.

YOUTH PAYS TWO FINES
In Borough Court, Eben P. Downey, 19, of Skillman was fined twice last week in Borough court by Judge Theodore T. Tams Jr.

Downey paid $25 for directing foul and abusive language at Ptl. Anthony Ranfone after Ptl. Ranfone gave him a ticket for operating his motorcycle on a permit without the presence of a licensed driver. For the latter, Downey was fined $15.

Charged with interfering and molesting under the Borough's disorderly person ordinance, Richard R. Hagadorn, 21, 20 Vandewater Avenue, was fined $25. The complainant, Lester E. Wolfgang, testified that Hagadorn was annoying a waitress at Burton's Restaurant on Nassau Street and refused to leave when asked. Hagadorn pleaded guilty.

Charges of shoplifting at Im provision Boutique, 195 Nassau Street, against Theodore Davis, 27, Deborah Taylor, 31, and Helen Fleming, 32, all of Tamami, 229 Terhune Road; John McCulloch, 168 Herronstown Road; Thomas E. Sweeney, 31 Overbrook Drive, and J. Hollister, 30 Tyson Lane.

Richard Mastran, 22, appeared to answer charges of littering and possession of marijuana. Judge Tams waived any fine but ordered Mastran to pay $10 court costs on the littering (on Nassau Street) charge, after he learned that Mastran has just returned from spending a year in Vietnam. The charge of possession of marijuana cigarettes was continued.

Hard to believe 300,000 peo-

To the Editor of Town Topics:

Hurray for Old Glory!
I, for one, am glad that we

Flag Belongs on the Moon.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
Accepting the view expressed in last week's TOWN TOP-ICS Mailbox that the landing of the first men on the moon may be the greatest achievement that man has ever made," the leading question over the world, for generations, will be: who, how,
when?

The "who" are Americans?
The "how" is not South American, African, Asiatic, European, and definitely not the United Nations but (with an assist to the Russians, beautifully acknowledged), the whole essentially is a United States of America education, science - industry - government people accomplishment.

The simplest, right to know of all people necessitates making known the American sponsorship. The U.N. did not conceive or perform the moon-landing. Artificially bringing them into the picture, as your correspondent advocated, is but a "tragic inadaptation to the facts" of July 26, 1969.
The Americans did the landing on the moon. "Breathes there a man with a soul so dead" as not to have thrilled at the great moment in this unprecedented feat?

So, respect our flag; fly it and thank God for this flag and the republic for which it stands. Across the world millions of other people do (even

Unfortunately there are too many people who do not want to solve these problems. They are against any change that calls for hard work and sacrifice. A typical example is the New Jersey legislature whose suburban members will not strongly support aid to the cities because the electorate which they represent does not want to pay higher taxes necessary for city rejuvenation programs.

The will of the majority is expressed in a democratic form of government. The suburbanite retains his privacy, his individuality and his well-earned right to home in the country.

Why can this be wrong?
There is no longer any reason for the existence of cities.

But cities exist and so do the great minds of our day and our rational solutions to the problems of living on earth. And dreamers, seeing the moon in the moon, wonder whether some day it would not be possible to populate that place by reproducing there all the conditions conducive to life that we have on earth.
The tendency is to look outside of man to nature for solutions to the problems of mankind.

This is the method of the physical scientists. They know it is easier to deal with the elements of our universe, inanimate matter, than to deal with man himself. Understanding man as an individual inanimate matter, the task of the scientists. But they are far behind their physical science colleagues in terms of achievement, as Apollo 11 so dramatically reveals.

"The proper study of man kind is man," a poet wrote.
But it is man in his world which constitutes the truer course to pursue. This calls for both physical scientists and social scientists working together, contributing the results of their separate and distinct disciplines to the needs of society. More important, such an effort requires clear goals and objectives and the development of an entirely new approach to problems, with new methods and institutions to achieve results.

We are already moving in this direction through the relatively new science of ecology, the study of man in his environment. But it will take an additional ingredient, not new,
the factor which was so evident in Apollo 11, the collective will power of thousands of individuals. It is not impossible to solve all the problems of man on earth. It will take some time, but then some dreams do come true.

American Flag Preferred.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
I Suppose one recently wrote to a local paper preferring the U.N. over the American Flag (TOWN TOPICS, July 17 issue).

The U.N. is communist-dominated. In 1945 when the U.N.
Charter was signed, 200 million people were behind the Iron Curtain. Today with the descent of U.S.A., more than 900 million people have been taken over by the Socialist (Communist) Soviet Union.

What did the noble U.N. do about this? Nothing! Let America protect a country like South Vietnam against the communists of Ho Chi Minh and the U.N. is in there fighting against us.

What does the U.N. say about the blood-thirsty, horrible actions of the Viet Cong?
Nothing—as of course they are designated in reverse English as the "Liberators" by the communists.

PETER A. SMITH
Belle Mead

"Let No Voice Be Silent."

To the Editor of Town Topics:
The most important item on the front page of the July 17th
New York Times to me, is not about the "Astronauts Speeding to the Moon," nor "Nixon Proposes a Holiday So All Can Share in the Glory," nor
"Agnew Proposes a Mars Landing." More important than any of these was the story in column 2 — "U.S. Is Stressing Cut in Casualties in Vietnam."

What else can this mean than that the commanders in the field, to whom the instruction is addressed, have regarded life, even the lives of U.S. soldiers, as so expendable as not to warrant the attention of the most protection that science and skill and unlimited money can provide a soldier in cum-bat?

And why is the instruction being heretofore so lax only after five years of fighting and the loss of some 35,000
"American lives"? It is "an effort to appease public opinion in the United States."

This says several things to me:

1) That life has been held cheap heretofore, it is being the lives of Vietnamese, north and south, but American lives.
2) That aroused public opinion in opposition to the war—expressed by every means that has been used — is being effective. It has been demonstrated by a token withdrawal, and now by tardy recognition of the public give as great concern as is possible to the safety of our men.
3) That the opposition must be continued. Let no voice be silent till the war is over.

Wyatt Earp Arrested.

To the Editor of Town Topics:
12 year Township resident arrested for standing on front lawn!

Yes, it happened to Wyatt Earp. He was about to cross Snowden Lane on his appointed rounds of the family property just as he has done for 12 years he has lived here.

He was signed on originally as a companion and custodian of the property, but now he is an octogenarian and a bit slow when his rear door of the pump house or even when adults steal the apples from the orchard. He doesn't even keep the rabbits out of the garden the way he should anymore, but I guess at that age a hard day's wake in this hot weather.

Wyatt is puzzled by the enormity of his "crime" since nothing has changed out here since he took up his duties 12 years ago. You see Wyatt Earp is a professional dog and he just doesn't understand.

I've explained to him about city people who move to the country and after a couple of years they want to change and he can't see why they should be able to sentence him to a chain for his declining years. As a matter of fact, neither can our owners, but they can't afford the fines.
I suppose one recently wrote to much, though. We'll be getting enough police protection to take care of everything now, and the city fathers won't let us change the law. I've never been too fond of dogs anyhow.

ed. After it was passed a man came, and during an assemblage of the 5th grade classes explained how the merger would affect us.

He also made some promises. Among these promises, one was that the schools would be like one. They aren't, and for the large part, there is spirit only for the school which one goes to. It is also quite hard to make friends in the other school. This man also gave his word that the students would not be changed from one school to another. I can give upon demand an instance in which this was broken.

He also gave his pledge that brothers and sisters would not be in separate schools (for one in Valley Road, one in Community Park). I can give proof of this pledge being valueless. He stated that you would get new friends. What he neglected to say was that in the process you would lose friends when you were shifted to a new "house" or "team" the following year.

Can you imagine the bitter feelings this causes? I am in bashful or shy people who are slow at making friends? The emissary said that we would have some choices in our curriculum. In the sixth grade we were given a sheet in which we chose between Latin and French. We were rather biased toward French mainly because it would be idiosyncrasy to drop a subject you had studied for years, and have the added factor of being almost totally isolated from your former friends if you took Latin.

Can you see why even a burning desire would be the most thoroughly extinguished? It was not much of a choice. Many students wish to be glad to see some changes made.

Editor's Joy Unrestrained.

To the Editor of Town Topics: We have seen with some amusement the report in this week's Town Topics of the birth of our daughter "to Mr. and Mrs. Joy Laszlo, 60 North Stanworth Drive, on July 5."

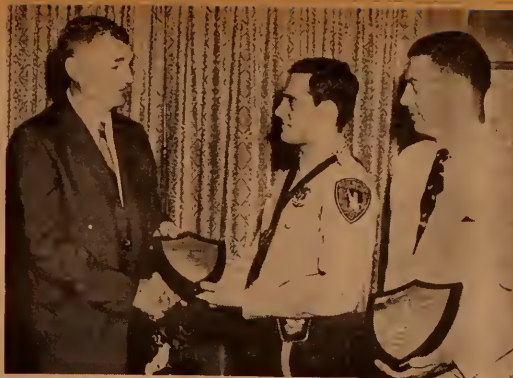

It is almost correct, you know! However, my first name is Pierre, my wife's is Marie, and our parents did not go for middle names.

For sure, joy was our dominant feeling; to discover that it has influenced you too adds merriment to it.

A&P Gains a Customer
To the Editor of Town Topics:

Following is the text of a letter I have written to the manager of the A&P Supermarket in Princeton:

In reply to Mr. Anthony Lanyi's Letter to the Editor of Town Topics, July 17, 1969, regarding the grape controversy, this is to inform you that I have started patronizing your store owing to your stocking California grapes in your produce department. Since my husband and I have five children, I hope that our business will more than off-set the loss of Mr. Anthony Lanyi's.

I do not know Mr. Lanyi, but I suppose that his intentions are sincere; the only problem is that he does not realize the truth of the matter.

The truth of the matter is that, one: the grape pickers are paid more than any other migrant farm workers — from $1.80 to $5.00 per hour. The "strike" that the so-called "union" has called is a demand for $1.40 per hour plus 25¢ per box, considerably less than what an experienced picker can make now.

Secondly: the "union" has leaders, but no followers — the grape pickers do not want to join the union. They do not want to strike for a lower wage; they want to pick grapes.

Third: the union leaders are not even grape pickers; they are professional agitators. The head of the N.F.W.A. is one Cesar Chavez who was trained by Saul Alinsky, author of "Revolution For Radicals" and "Rules for Revolution." The N.F.W.A.'s competition is the A.W.O.C., a branch of the AFL-CIO, who's leader is one Mr. Hiling, a native of the Philippines whose communist party affiliations in the United States have made the Philippine immigration service refuse to allow him to return to his native home in the Philippines.

In closing, let me quote from one of the growers, Mr. Jack Pandol — "We're (the growers) just not news. The sensationalism is all on the other side. The wilder the charge made against us, the more publicity it gets. Nobody seems concerned with whether it is true or not. I finally got a Methodist minister to come out to my ranch and look at my payroll time-sheets and housing facilities for the pickers. He couldn't believe it; it was so different from what the N.F.W.A. propagandists had told him about pay and work conditions."

With the correct facts, how can any American do anything but support the growers and the pickers by buying as many grapes as possible so that all concerned will have a good year and people like Chavez and Hiling will have a graphic lesson in how this country really feels about people like themselves.

BUSINESS In Princeton

INDEX FIGURES UP
But What Does Future Hold?
TOWN TOPICS: Business Index for the second quarter shows a healthy majority of plus signs, some due in part to seasonal factors relating to construction, but will the third quarter be able to perform as well?

Most economic experts believe the slowdown on the economy has begun, and it remains to be seen whether the pressures will be felt all the way down to these local indicators. The Princeton area has grown so steadily in recent years, that most segments of the chart have registered plus marks regardless of the economic mood in the rest of the nation.

The second quarter was about half over before the stock market began to plummet, causing forecasters to issue predictions for a slower rate of growth. Thus the full force of the economy on the car production in Detroit, housing, etc. will not be felt until the third quarter statistics are at hand.

Meanwhile, in the Princeton area, the figures from the two banks and two savings and loan institutions continued an upswing that has been unbroken for the last several quarters. Savings have not shown a decline in several years, and loans, in the face of those prime interest rate hikes, still rang up a three per cent increase over last quarter. Checking accounts tend to dip slightly in the first quarter of every year, but move upward thereafter. All three indicators show strong gains over last year.

New car sales registered a 19% gain over the first three months of the year, partly because many new car buyers wait until the warmer months before making a switch. New car sales rarely if ever have dropped from the first quarter to the second. The comparison with last year finds a minimal difference of just six cars or 8 per cent.

Construction figures all posted an increase from the first quarter, also following increased warm weather activity. Property transfers show an increase in the Township and a decrease in the Borough.

Parking meter receipts are up more than 50% over a year ago, traceable to the increase in meter rates around the Borough. All in all, not much on the minus side for the second quarter. It may be a tough act to follow for the third.

BANK TO BUILD BRANCH
In Lawrence Township, The First National Bank of Princeton has received official approval to establish its third branch office to be located on Princeton Pike in Lawrence Township. It will be situated one quarter mile northeast of California growers produce 97% of all table grapes marketed in the United States, and from their position of virtual monopoly they could well afford to support model labor relations while showing adequate profits. However, this is far from the facts. A handful of big growers with a despotic disregard for decent pay and conditions of work have been importing scab labor from Mexico, and thus are able to ignore the strike declared by legal workers, 4,600 of whom have joined the United Farm Workers at tremendous personal sacrifice.

Farm workers unprotected by the Wagner Act are in need of the support of the wider community far more urgently than most labor. Support has been forthcoming from church groups, unions, thousands of individual consumers and sympathizers, cities and even whole countries (Sweden and England).

All these have agreed not to buy table grapes until the growers recognize the legitimate demands of the Chavez union, as the wine industry has earlier done. I hope this fraternal gesture of support will spread from coast to coast, making further grower resistance unprofitable.

It is the opportune moment for the largest chain stores, following the example of the Dominion chain in Canada, to assist the UFW by not purchasing the grapes presently being harvested. Certainly the individual housewife as consumer can exert a tremendous force for good by refusing to purchase domestic grapes in the markets, and pointing out to management the need for cooperation with "La Causa."

It is really incredible that in 1969, unionization, an accepted fact in the industrial sector of our economic life, is a right being denied farm workers who need its protection most. Let us all show that we do have a concern for social justice, an impulse toward shared humanity that can span a continent to support the farm workers of Delano whose cry has too long gone unheard.

Asian Trip Begins

President Robert F. Goheen of Princeton University left on Wednesday for a three-week series of meetings with educators and government officials in Hong Kong, Thailand and India. The latter country is his birthplace.

Dr. Goheen is accompanied by one of his four daughters, Margaret, 19, a sophomore at Hollins College.

He plans talks at major educational gatherings of educators in Delhi, Madras, Trivandrum and Bombay. Also scheduled is a visit to the Indian Institute of Technology at Kanpur, a growing center for scientific and engineering research that is sponsored by nine American institutions including Princeton.

Taxi, Inc., has been charged with allowing an unlicensed driver to operate his taxi. Mr. Provenzano has been charged as an unlicensed taxi driver. Both denied the charges.

TOWNSHIP GIVEN REPORT On Regional Sewer. Township Committee has received a report on the progress being made on a regional sewer agreement among itself, Rocky Hill and Montgomery Township. Former Mayor Carl Schaefer, the township's representative, updated Committee on the details Monday night.

Entered into at the end of last year, the agreement provides for a treatment plant off Route 518 in Rocky Hill, which would tie in with the Township's Hillside treatment plant. This plant is already running close to capacity. Approximately 600 acres in the northeast section of the Township would be served.

Total cost of the project would be around $625,000, with the Township's cost in the neighborhood of $175,000. However, the Township is hopeful of obtaining federal or state funds to pay part of the way.

TOWNSHIP TO CHARGE $10 To Return Shopping Carts. The Township has become tired of those shopping carts left on streets around the Shopping Center and has begun a policy of picking up abandoned carts and bringing them back to the Township Garage.

Once there, it will cost $10 a cart for the Shopping Center to redeem them. The carts are an eyesore and often a traffic hazard, Mayor John D. Wallace commented.

EXTRA MEETING HELD

By Township Zoners. The Township Board of Adjustment, found itself in the same position as the Planning Board last week, when a heavy July agenda forced a second meeting to be held to accommodate all the cases waiting to be heard. The board was scheduled to meet at 7:30 this Wednesday.

Taking up the major part of the evening was a request by Morris Lipshitz of New Brunswick, owner of Tiger Bus Line, to have his garage facility at 255 John Street, declared a conforming use. The issue arose when Mr. Lipshitz went before the Planning Board to request a resubdivision of his lots in connection with an expansion of his garage.

The Planning Board approved the plan on condition that the zoning board validate the contention that the use of the garage to store and service buses is permitted in the zone. Several residents of the area appeared at the meeting in opposition to the garage. The board's decision was expected Wednesday.

To be heard at the extra meeting will be a request from Princeton Car Wash for a variance for advertising and directional signs. The township ordinance allows a maximum of 28 square feet for a single sign and 56 feet for all signs. The car wash has a 35-foot sign and a total area of 105 or 115 square feet in mind. Its directional signs also need a variance.

POET'S WORK DONATED

Emily Dickinson Collection

An outstanding collection of works associated with New England poet Emily Dickinson has been presented to the Library of Princeton University by Mrs. John Pershing, a well-known Richmond, Va., collector.

The gift includes some 280 volumes and extensive supporting materials and affords the University the opportunity of joining the ranks of the "Dickinson giants," an observation made by Dr. Richard M. Ludwig, Professor of English, in an introduction to a newly-published catalog of the collection. "Only a handful of libraries in the country can boast of anything like a complete Dickinson collection of printed materials."

The collection is particularly strong in multiple editions of the famous three series of Dickinson poems: "Poems," 1890; "Poems, Second Series," 1891; and "Poems, Third Series," 1896, in her correspondence, and in the books and magazine articles about the life and work of the poet.

Only seven of the poet's poems appeared in her lifetime. The rest of the 1,775 that survived were in holograph copies discovered by her sister after the poet's death and in presentation copies Miss Dickinson had given to friends and relatives.

Part of the Pershing Collection consists of books and magazine articles written by "The Dickinson Circle," her family, friends, and early editors, as well as material on the Amherst community. Complete books by Miss Dickinson and anthologies and magazines containing material by the poet are also among the highlights of the collection.

The extensive Dickinson collection was started when Mrs. Pershing one day happened to read one of Miss Dickinson's poems for the first time. She wanted to read more, and one of her sons presented her with a volume of collected poems. Mrs. Pershing is the wife of John Pershing, Princeton '21. Their sons, John, Jr. and Hugh S., were graduated from Princeton in 1917 and 1950, respectively.

the Pike intersection with Baker's Basin Road. Plans for the building are not final, but the site will provide parking areas and show-up banking windows. It will be a full-service branch where checking and savings accounts, deposits and withdrawals may be made, and loans and all other First National Bank services performed.

Other branches of the First National Bank of Princeton are at 370 East Nassau Street and at 40 Washington Road in Princeton Junction. The main office is at Nassau and Witherspoon Streets.

The approval for the new banking branch was announced on the day the state's new banking law went into effect July 17, six months after Governor Richard J. Hughes signed it into law.

NEW PRESIDENT NAMED

For IBM Records Division Sheldon I. Euler, formerly Division Director for IBM at its corporate headquarters in Armonk, N.Y., has been named president of the Information Records Division, which has its headquarters here on Chambers Street. In his new position, Mr. Euler will be in charge of operations of the division, which produced eleven manufacturing plants across the country. The division develops and manufactures data processing cards and paper forms, magnetic tape and other consumable products used in information handling systems. Its product line also includes systems and services for the storage, retrieval, distribution and display of business records.

Mr. Euler has held a number of managerial posts and in 1961 was promoted to administrative assistant, office of the IBM president. In 1962 he was promoted to director of manufacturing, planning and controls on the corporate level and was named IBM director of manufacturing in 1966.

ADR LISTING APPROVED

On American Stock Exchange. The common stock of Applied Data Research Inc., computer and software company, located on Route 206, Montgomery Township, has been approved for listing and trading on the American Stock Exchange, beginning Thursday.

The company's stock, selling around $12 a share as of Monday, will be traded under the symbol ADR. It had been traded on the over-the-counter market heretofore. The firm was founded 10 years ago this month.

FIRM HERE AFFILIATED

With Control Data, Automation Institute of Princeton, 20 Nassau Street, has become an educational affiliate of Control Data Corporation.

A franchised computer educational school under the direction of John Goble, Automation Institute has been in operation since 1966. It offers courses in computer programming and operation.

Mr. Goble said that the affiliation with Control Data will allow the Institute to offer a broad range of computer education services through materials and programs developed by the Minneapolis-based corporation manufacturing firm to meet the need for trained people in the rapidly expanding computer industry.

Control Data, a Princeton Institute of America, Inc. is a nation-wide network of schools founded in 1957.

PATIO SHOP CLOSING

At 360 Nassau Street, The Patio Shop and Furniture Clearance Center at 306 Nassau Street, operated by Nassau Interiors, will close its doors August 8. Owner Leonard LaPlaza announced at the same time that the operation of the store at 162 Nassau would continue.

The closing of the Patio Shop is temporary. By next spring, Mr. LaPlaza said, "we expect to transfer the patio and furniture center operation to a location on U.S. 1 near Princeton."

Meantime, Princeton Plaza, leasing agent for the property, is conducting extensive redecoration and renovating of the ground floor showroom. Delwyn Gregory, an associate of Princeton Plaza, announced that he was talking with one or two clients who may lease the property. Name of the principals involved have not yet been made public.

EARNINGS INCREASE 8%

At American Cyanamid. American Cyanamid announced an eight per cent increase in earnings for the first half of 1969 compared to the same period last year. The eight per cent increase in sales. Sales for the six-month period this year were $557,000 compared to $518,000 last year. The six-month earnings brought the price per share to $1.98, as compared to $1.92 per share in 1968.

Second quarter sales this year were $286,700, 4 per cent above $274,100 a year ago. Second quarter earnings were $23,523,000, as compared with $22,800,000 for the second quarter of 1968. In spite of a sizeable reduction in net income from agricultural products, the pre-share earnings were 33 cents this year, slightly below the 35 cents per share earned in the good second quarter last year.

For the first six months, the year-to-year earnings increase was due principally to higher sales volume. The rise in volume continued to result in some reduction in unit operating costs despite further increases in salaries and overheads. In agricultural products, the rise in sales volume and earnings was due to higher prices, particularly in agricultural products and in antibiotic products overseas.

Three of the four segments of Cyanamid's business—building and consumer medical and chemical—showed year-to-year gains in sales for the six-month period. Building and consumer products and medical products registered substantial gains in earnings as well, while earnings for chemicals were about the same as in the first half of 1968. In the agricultural part of the business, sales were somewhat lower than in the first half of 1968, but earnings showed a sizeable decline.

TWO ARE PROMOTED

In RCA Research. Paul Berger, a resident of Lawrence Township, and Sherwood Skillman, 98 Magnolia Lane, have been appointed managers in the operations research group at RCA management information systems center at the David Sarnoff Research Center.

Employed by RCA since 1961, Berger has been named manager, business systems and general software development. He transferred from RCA's data processing facility in Cherry Hill to the Research Center in 1963. In 1965 he was the recipient, together with Mr. Skillman, of an RCA Laboratories achievement award for "lean performance in the in management sciences."

Mr. Skillman, who was named manager, Functional Systems and Time Sharing applications, has been employed by RCA at the Research Center since 1954. Prior to joining RCA, he was employed as a mathematician by IBM in New York, where he was a pioneer in developing applications using their first electronic computer.

WHWH TO EXPAND

Will Acquire WJZZ-FM. The Nassau Broadcasting Company has filed for the purchase of WJZZ-FM in Bridgeport, Conn., as part of a major expansion and acquisition program. Owned presently by Newsview, Inc., of Bridgeport, the 25,000 watt full power Class B station is the only commercial FM channel in the Bridgeport Metropolitan area and serves lower New York, lower Connecticut and Long Island.

As part of its expansion program, Nassau Broadcasting has hired Daniel F. Covell as director of FM services, with executive responsibilities over WJZZ. The company also will wait FM facility in Trenton; under WJZZ, Bridgeport; and other contemplated FM stations. Covell has moved by radio services for the company.

Mr. Covell has most recently been manager of WGBZ-FM in Flint, Mich. A 15-year broadcast veteran, he is a Michigan State graduate and a native of Detroit, Mich. He has had experience with several radio stations in Michigan.

LAKESIDE CONTEMPORARY - OFFERED FOR THE FIRST TIME: Wonderful, big, modern house, custom built five years ago in a forest of tall oak trees overlooking a shimmering nearby lake. Broad, stone floored entrance hall divides the main floor into distinct parents and childrens areas; on the adult side, there's a huge carpeted living room with high ceiling, tile fireplace and wall of glass facing the lake's master bedroom, dressing room and bath; and in the family area, dining room, deluxe modern kitchen, breakfast-sitting room, laundry, two children's bedrooms with double bath and study or third bedroom. The entire back of this end of the house opens to a huge outdoor living room with barbecue overlooking the lake. On a lower level, opening to the lawn, there are 2 more bedrooms and bath, plus big family room with fireplace, work room and storeroom. 3 car garage. 1 1/2 acres. $79,500

DOUBLE ENTENDRE: Here's a Princeton house with at least two interpretations; you make it as it is, - two comfortable apartments - and live in one very inexpensively, or with a little sleight of hand turn it back into a beautiful 5 bedroom two story. At the moment, in the owner's ground floor apartment, there's an entrance hall, large living room with fireplace, study, dining room, super modern kitchen, 2 bedrooms and bath. In the upstairs apartment, whose rent makes the living so easy, there's living room, kitchen, 3 bedrooms and bath. Full basement, garage for each apartment. Small, easily maintained grounds. Convenient Township location. $59,900

IF YOU WANT TO BUILD NOW. We have several Princeton Township house sites which ought to be of some interest to you. All are at least 1 1/2 acres and wooded. All are in the West or Northwest section of town and have public sewer and water. Prices range from $18,500 to $35,000

LOTS OF HOUSE FOR THE MONEY: Immaculate two story farm house colonial with room for everything and everybody. Center hall opens to carpeted living room. Dining room. Paneled family room with fireplace and sliding glass doors to a terrace with lolly views of surrounding hills. Sleek kitchen 3 bedrooms and 2 baths downstairs; 2 bedrooms and another bath up. Basement and 2 car garage. At the edge of a lovely farm. $54,000

THE GREAT INDOORS: 6 bedrooms and 4 1/2 baths of it! And all kinds of wonderful living space: big double living room with fireplace, glasswalled garden room, large study, dining room, deluxe kitchen with all new equipment and sunny breakfast area. Basement garage. Central air conditioning. 1 1/2 acre wooded lot. Quiet street. Asking $84,500

A COUNTRY HOUSE OF CHARM AND GRACE: Built in an era of slate roofs and plaster walls and once the main house on a large farm, it now finds itself on 3 acres in a burgeoning neighborhood of $100,000 houses adjoining The Bedens Brook Club. Lovely rooms including high ceilinged living room with fireplace, dining room, pine paneled study with fireplace, big, bright kitchen 3 bedrooms and 2 baths plus maid's room, bath and lavatory. $79,500 and worth it!

MR. BLANDING'S DREAM HOUSE

was not the only house his architect designed. We know of another. It is in Griggstown and it can be your dream house, today!

High on a hill overlooking the Millstone Canal sits this story and a half authentically designed Colonial. A charming center hall welcomes you - to the left is an attractive paneled study with a fireplace on the right (and going the full depth of the house) is a lovely living room with a fireplace. At the end of the hall is a small and interesting dining room. The kitchen is designed in keeping with the old colonial feel of the house as are the three bedrooms. There are 2½ baths and well groomed and treed grounds. We are proud to be able to offer this attractive house at an unusually attractive price of $69,500

ETS Survey Finds Dramatic Changes In Content of High School Courses

Today's high school student is learning to solve more complex math problems than ever before, but he is spending less time on American History and Shakespeare, a study compiled by Educational Testing Service reports.

In a study of the academic preparation of students from more than 5,000 high schools, ETS found dramatic changes in the content and teaching methods of high school courses. Curriculum innovations during the past decade have had a significant effect in the teaching of mathematics, science and modern foreign languages.

Complex math concepts are being introduced much earlier, ETS found, and students are taking more sophisticated biology, chemistry and physics courses and spending more time in laboratories. Psychology, sociology, anthropology and economics have gained in popularity, and language laboratories are now widely accepted as an aid by many foreign language teachers.

At the same time, however, high school English and history courses have been less influenced by curriculum reform movements. The increased emphasis on science has often been at the expense of the traditional Problems of American Democracy courses in some high schools. And one in five college-bound high school seniors never read a play by Shakespeare.

Answers from 26,000. The findings are based on a survey of 26,000 college-bound students who took the College Board Achievement Tests during the 1965-66 school year. The students were asked to describe what they had actually studied in eight academic areas: mathematics, biology, English, history and social sciences, modern languages, Latin, chemistry and physics.

Titled, "A Survey of the Academic Preparation of College-Bound Candidates," the study was designed to maintain the relevancy of College Board achievement tests to current teaching practices. It was conducted under the direction of Mrs. Elizabeth W. Haven, a research project director at ETS.

"To our knowledge," Mrs. Haven said, "this is the first time information of this kind has been brought together on a national scale. These findings should provide educators with a base line from which they can trace future changes in course content and emphasis as the educational process undergoes deeper transformations."

The New Math. ETS found that most concepts and recommendations associated with the new math have been incorporated into high school programs. In addition to the basics of the new math, most students said they had been assigned topics such as development of algebraic theorems from postulates and the solution and graphical interpretation of algebraic inequalities.

Analytic geometry and elementary analysis had been studied by more than 30% of the students by the middle of their senior year, while 30% had had equivalent exposure to statistics. Almost a fifth had enrolled in an Advanced Placement math course.

The penetration of new concepts in biology into the curriculum is indicated by the number of students who reported studying such topics as biological clocks and DNA and RNA. Time spent in the laboratory has risen, with 50% of the students reporting they spent at least one hour a week in lab work, and 20% two hours or more. The study also reports that many students no longer concentrate in one science. Of these biology students, 73% and also taken chemistry and 40% had studied physics.

English Change Moderate. The study found only moderate changes in English classrooms, with high school teachers still requiring a great deal of work in formal grammar and exercises found in additional texts and workbooks, according to the students.

The movement to treat the study of the English language as a separate discipline, recommended by the commission on English, has made some progress. About a third of the students have studied linguistics in some form.

Most composition work still involves writing papers outside of class, but there is evidence of extemporaneous writing under laboratory conditions, with the teacher available for individual assistance.

You didn't look too good in the shower this morning, Liz.

But then, who could look good in a cold shower on a chilly winter morning. As usual, after Tom and the kids had their showers, there wasn't enough hot water left for you, Liz. Besides, your problem fest with an oil-fired hot water heater from Princeton Fuel Oil Company. Oil heated water gets hot faster, stays hot longer, and there'll be plenty of it left for you, Liz. Besides, you can save as much as half of what you're paying now to heat water. That could make anybody look good. Ask about it at Princeton Fuel, 220 Alexander Street, 924-1100.

ANNE OF THE THOUSAND DAYS: Summer Intime presents Maxwell Anderson's great play about Anne Boleyn and the infatuated Henry VIII this weekend and next at the Murray Theatre. Deborah Savadge and Geoff Peterson have the leads.

News Of The THEATRES

HISTORICAL DRAMA NEXT
At Summer Intime, Maxwell Anderson's emotion-charged drama, "Anne of the Thousand Days," will be presented at 8:30 this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, and again on August 7-9 by the Summer Intime repertory group at the Murray Theatre.
The play re-creates the stormy love affair of Henry VIII and Anne Boleyn, for which a country gave up its religion, a king gave up his queen and a young woman gave up her head. In the events of those brief thousand days is a story both intensely personal and boldly epic.

Deborah Savadge and Geoff Peterson have the principal roles. Eric Von Storch appears as Cardinal Wolsey, Andrew Bloch as Mark Smeaton, John Vennema as Lord Percy, Beverly Rogers as Elizabeth Boleyn and Robert Rockwell as Thomas Cromwell. Larry Strichman is director.

Guest appearances with the summer company will be made by Bernard Miller as Thomas Boleyn, Don Blumenfeld as Norfolk and Russ Schwartz as Jane Seymour.

Credits, Miss Savadge has appeared in the Intime productions of "The Knack," "The Romantics," Jonesco's "The Lesson," and during the current repertory season, as Birdie in "The Little Foxes" and as the parlormaid Josephine in "A Shot in the Dark."

Over the past four years, Geoff Peterson has directed Miss Savadge in "The Trial," "The Knack" and most recently in "Shot in the Dark." He has been her frequent performing partner as well, most recently in "The Little Foxes."

Larry Strichman has directed "The Lesson" for Intime and next season will stage the Murray Theatre production of "Murad/Sade." He appeared as Mephisto in the American premiere of Laurence Durrell's "An Irish Faus-tus," and this summer as Ben Hubbard in "The Little Foxes."

The sets and lighting for "Anne" are designed and made by Richard B. Williams, technical director at the Murray.

On July 31, Summer Intime will present George Bernard Shaw's "Heartbreak House," with additional performances on August 1, 2, 14, 15, 16. Brenda Burke will direct.

TAYLOR & HEPBURN STAR
In Festival Film, The Summer Intime Film Festival continues on Monday at 8 with the showing of "Suddenly, Last Summer." Katherine Hepburn, Elizabeth Taylor and the late Montgomery Clift head the fine cast.

The film, based on Tennessee Williams' play of the same title, tells the story of a young woman confined to a mental institution because of her "hallucinations" about the horrible death of her cousin Sebastian. The screenplay is by Gore Vidal and Williams. Joseph L. Mankiewicz directed.

Frederic Olessi's film, "Jud-as," will be shown before the main feature. Based upon the last act of Mr. Olessi's play of the same name, the camera focuses on Judas's realization of his reasons for betraying Christ. The crucifixion sequences were photographed at the Stuart County Day School of the Sacred Heart.

All films of the Summer Intime Film Festival are shown in air-conditioned McCormick Art Museum, adjacent to the Murray Theatre. Admission is $1.

PLAYERS' SHOW TO OPEN
At Open Air Theatre. "We Bombed in New Haven," a Princeton Community Players production, will open a five-night stand this Thursday at 8:30 at the Open Air Theatre, Washington Crossing (N.J.) State Park.

The Joseph Heller play will be repeated this Friday and Saturday and again on Friday and Saturday, August 1 and 2. Donald Evans, a member of the faculty at Princeton High School, will direct.

Principals in the cast are Trevor Owens, Robert Peck, David Mackey, Jeremy Steele, Beverly Hays and Robert Upchurch. Cast in supporting roles are John Nierenberg, Peter Hirsch, Roger Schneeweis, Laurence Bloom, Dan Schay, Randy Thomas, Peter Heinemann and Carl Stange.

"We Bombed in New Haven" is a bitter comedy, built around the subject of war and those who fight and die in it. One critical evaluation: "It surprises, upsets, amuses the audience, provokes it further into uncomfortable laughter and finally moves it to argument and tears." Director Evans lists it as "not for young children," although reporting that "the theme in all its implications is very meaningful to today's youth."

Tickets are available from any member of the Players and on the evening of the performance at the box office. Rain date for Thursday's performance is July 31.

RAY CHARLES TO SING

At Music Circus. Ray Charles, one of the most accomplished musicians in the history of the entertainment world, will appear at St. John Terrell's Music Circus, Saturday at 9:45 p.m. He will perform with his revue of Raeletts, four girls who tour regularly with the musician.

Specializing in piano, organ, and sax, Ray Charles also composes and arranges his own music. He taught himself to play and write for every brass and wind instrument in an orchestra at an early age.

For the hostess who loves handwork, Stone's has the 1970 calendar printed in colored cross stitch. In fact, it doesn't really need the embroidery work. Above the months is the old poem beginning "Monday's child is full of grace."

Stone's has a linen measure for the children's growth (up to 58"), to be hung on the wall, with the stages of development illustrated in small drawings.

This is a year-round favorite of doting grandmothers, who buy the linen strips and embroider over the printed pattern ($1.25).

"YOU WASH, I'LL WATCH" Groddier Shor Bags, Stone's Linen at 20 Nassau has gone out of its way to find house gifts that are a little bit different, reasonably priced and fit nicely into a corner of your suitcase.

That great closet tidier, a shoe bag, for instance, that holds four pairs behind a summertime trim of felt poodles and daisies. In shocking pink or orange. ($3.95). To take to children, a red-jacketed Grenadier, with pockets for shoes formed on the long, blue pants.

Or pajama bags, such as Miss Mouse in a wide-skirted, candy-striped dress; or a yellow-haired gingerbread lady with a lace-edge pink apron. Pillow-like pajama bags with eyelid embroidery ruffles come in blue or pink or yellow. A puppy or kitten perches on the center.

For men who preside at the grille, aprons with a message. The California aprons feature a large, center front advertisement of Cutty Sark or the Schweppes label and such.

Others, made elsewhere, come in subdued Roman stripes bearing such slogans as "Those Who Drink to Forget, Please Pay in Advance" and "You Wash, I'll Watch." They are all roomy, made of substantial material and sized just right.

California designers have also come up with charming ladybug, aprons, coveralls, laundry bags, pot holders and towels. The coveralls are in women's sizes, while there are both men's and women's versions of the apron.

The ladybug is nicely handled, not in an all-over pattern, but, for example, on the row of three pockets on the apron. There's a summer stripe pattern in the background.

Another apron series from California has magnificently colorful flowers boldly drawn the length of the apron. There is also a vegetable pattern — tomatoes and celery and radishes in a riotously colorful effect.

For the student going away to college, Stone's has a striking Union Jack laundry in heavy canvas. ($5). There's a matching apron for men.

Or you might take your hostess some linen bowls. Stone's has the linen salad bowls, trays and small bowls in printed homespun molded with fibreglass. Very light weight, and sturdy. The articles come in enchanting prints — such as berries, or citrus fruits, or strawberries, or vegetables. There are relish trays and salad servers that complement.

The same printed linen is also made up into aprons, mitts and pot holders. The towels could be used as runners

ALL SORTS OF GADGETS

At Urken's Hardware, Half of the fun of noising around in a hardware store is the unexpected gadget you come across that is a far cry from hammers and nails and step ladders.

At Urken's Hardware on Witherspoon Street, we found a series of solutions to the "Where'll I put it!" complaint that dogs us all.

Urken's carries Partfolios—a three-part cabinet that closes up into a little square box that takes up less room than a bowling ball. Open, it stretches into 32 compartments (50 in all) for small tools, glue, threads, scissors, and other miscellany—making it a handy thing for the kitchen, the sewing room or the workbench ($6.95).

Mrs. Eunice Urken says she's sold a lot of her small, all-steel cabinets to beauty parlors. These have see-through styrene drawers that are adjustable. Use them to store all sorts of things: postage stamps, flashlight batteries, pencils, glue, trout flies, fuses, etc.—the clutter that you always wish you could organize. The 12-drawer size is $3.99; 18-drawer, $6.99. The steel cabinets are made so that you can stack them securely, and always see what's inside, because there is no door.

We also noticed Corning's new store-and-see Pyrexware for your refrigerator. These have light covers to keep moisture in or out. They come tall for scallions or celery ($1.79), or squat for cooked vegetables or fruits. ($1.29) You can heat the jar and contents in the oven (without the lid).

Racks for your dinnerware come two ways now by Rubbermaid: 22½ x 9½ x 6½ in a plastic rack for a service for eight, with a cup shelf that slides in and out for easy access; or 22½ x 10½ x 6½ rubber-coated steel for a service for 10. Both at $3.98. In the new version, the dishes are stored vertically, sliding into a groove, in the old, the dinner plates stack about the cup section. Either will give you some extra room in the cupboard.

Roaming around Urken's, we well Jenkins will play such selections as Mozart's Overture of "The Marriage of Figaro," the overture "Tancredi" by Rossini, and "Schero" from Mendelssohn's "Midsummer Night's Dream."

Tickets for the Jan. Peerce-Roberta Peters concert, priced at $6.50, $5.00, and $3.50, with lawn seating at $2.50, are obtainable by telephone (201) 947-5354, by mail, Waterloo Village Music Festival, Stanhope, N. J., or at the box office in Waterloo Village. A guided tour of the hamlet, a Colonial restoration village filled with Revolutionary War houses, is included in the price of admission.

Chitty Chitty Bang Bang (now playing) is a colorful fantasy for family audiences.

Dick Van Dyke is the impractical but sincere inventor named Caractacus Potts who lives in England at the turn of the century. An impoverished widower with two headstrong children, he happily dabbles at strangely intricate but prophetic inventions. Such as a hair-cutting machine propelled by bicycle pedals.

He reconstructs from an old jalopy a shining motor car that can fly through the air and coast through water. Off with his kids and their school teacher, Sally Ann Howes, he meets up with a series of adventures, peppered with wild chase scenes, song and dance. It's a joyful, extravagantly produced confection.

Garden, Prince, Lincoln

The April Fools (now playing) stars Jack Lemmon in a comedy about love conquers all.

Lemmon, cast as a Wall Street broker and suburban family man, is promoted to the executive inner circle by his boss, Peter Lawford, but he feels out of place in the jet set crowd. At a glamorous cocktail party, he is picked by a bored and unhappy Cathersaw bags of Ozark Mountain "Hickorie Chunks" — a purr-hickory for the gourmet who wants a genuine smokehouse flavor at the barbecue. ($1.19); sets of folding serving tables; a small, slatted redwood table to go beside a patio chair; cushioned 3-seat step-ladder chairs ($16.95) in cool white or pale yellow.

And three-shelf utility tables on easy roll casters ($13.) for extra storage space or serving. The tables have an electric outlet that is handy.

For cookouts, Urken's carries the Weber charcoal grills, among them the fat, round Bar-B-Q Kettle, on a wheeled tripod. The dome lid is part of the secret to sealed-in flavor for your meat. The kettle may be left out all year round, as it is completely weatherproof. Prices range from $39.95 to $57.95 for the big ones.

There are tiny habachis for the table ($2.98), double habachis with side-by-side grilling oval and square steak broilers in heavy cast iron, some on short legs, others without.

Also for your dining convenience, Urken's carries extremely attractive trays that clip onto the patio chair ($2.25).

And for serving table, clear-topped dishes by Corning come with serving cradles. All are the freeze-cook-serve ware that is so versatile and saves so much work. Food that is properly prepared is so attractive, that only the clear glass lid does it justice.

You could spend an hour at Urken's just staring at one wall and the counter beneath it. Ladies' toolboxes; hot plates; knobs and drawer pulls in styles ranging from colonial to contemporary; racks for garden hose, shades, fans, even tools and nails.

ine Deneuve (unknown to Lemmon, the boss's wife), and they depart for an evening on the town.

From there on, the film is filled with comic characters and trenchant social satire. Lemmon and Miss Deneuve receive faultless support from Charles Boyer and Myrna Loy, a loving and engagingly oddball couple. Sally Kellerman is good as the suburban wife preoccupied with gossip and interior decorating.

"SCUBA DUBA"

Two Weeks at Bucks County, "Scuba Duba." Bruce Jay Friedman's off-Broadway comedy, is now playing a two-week run at the Bucks County Playhouse in New Hope, Pa. Screen actor George Segal will be making his directorial debut as guest director of the production.

The Prince Street Players of WCBS-TV are continuing their children's show at the Playhouse. The company performs their original musical versions of children's tales weekly through August. Performances are given early Thursday morning at 11 a.m. Future productions include "Pinocchio" on Thursday, an extra performance at 2, and "Sleeping Beauty" on July 31. SPORTSMEN GAIN TIE

Eagles Upset in PTH. A pair of victories by Italian-American Sportsmen, coupled with an upset of the Eagles by previously winless Engine No. 1, have changed the standings in the PBA Youth Baseball League. Sportsmen and Engine No. 3 are tied for the lead with 6-2 records, while the Eagles have dropped a game behind in second.

The Sportsmen picked up their fifth win by trouncing Hook & Ladder, 13-3, scoring eight runs in the first two innings and five more in the fifth. Dom Sells humered and Felix Barron tripled to back up Sportsmen hurler Daren Perone, who struck out nine and allowed four hits. Tony Ferrera hit a double and single to lead H&L.

Sells also hit a two-run homer in the third inning when the Sportsmen scored all of their runs to edge Engine No. 3 for its seventh win, 3-2. Pat Kibby, who fanned 11, got the win, his third of the season.

Hard-luck losing pitcher was Bob McHugh. He gave up only two hits while striking out 11, Jeff Petrone, John Perone and Stephen Perone excelled defensively for the losers.

The Eagles, meanwhile, were clipped by the cellar-dwelling Engine No. 1, who shocked the former front runner with an 11-hit attack that included Rich Silverman's grand slam. Silverman had five RBIs and was 2-for-2 at the plate.

Ten-year-old Jimmy LaPlaca got the hit, striking out before receiving pitch help from Silverman in the fifth, when the Eagles scored twice. LaPlaca was 2-for-4 at the plate and drove in two runs to aid his own cause.

Bobby Mangone, Tom Moore, Mike Boccanfuso, Marty Burke and Rich Wilson also had a hand in the victors' biggest game at the plate.

For the Eagles, Peter Neu worth homered and Don Devecchio and John Madden each connected for a pair of hits. George Reynolds, who had defeated No. 1 earlier in the season, was charged with the loss. He struck out four.

Earlier, No. 1 was the one-hit victim of Post 76 pitcher Tom Stange, now 3-0. Tom rounded out his performance by whiffing seven and binging out two hits. Rich Wilson, who lined a single in the fifth, was the only No. 1 better to solve Stange.

Offensively, Steve O'Neill and Jeff Bartolino each tripled for Post 76, while Tony Trani and catcher Peter Soderman stood out on defense.

Some outstanding defensive plays of its own, including a pair of runners thrown out at home and a double play, ended No. 1 to keep the score down. Martin Givarg, left-fielder for No. 1, came up with the game's only catch with the game's diving, shoe-string stab in the first with two down prevented two runs from scoring. Mike Boccanfuso (six hits, eight strikeouts) took the loss.

The Elks divided a pair, losing 7-3 to Engine No. 3 and blanking Roma Eterna 7-0. In the latter game, Andy Noel and Paul Moravec limited Roma to three hits. They were helped in the field by Jay Woolson, Junior Oldier, David Stuart and Tony Lewis. Danny Collins and Tony LaPlaca each singled and doubled for the Elks.

Against No. 3, Elks batters had little success against Mike Boonin who struck out seven in three innings. Boonin, Billy Gorman and Mike Stillaber each rapped two hits apiece to pace the winners' seven-hit attack.

In another game, Andy Bolster and Lucien Brush pitched Hook & Ladder to a 3-1 triumph over Post 76.

CONTE'S BAR IN FRONT
In Adult Softball League, a pair of victories last week, 6-3 over Nassau Conover, and 5-0 over Jurnen, kept Conte's Bar in first place by a comfortable margin in the Adult Softball League. The winners now sport a 7-0 mark.

Bill McQuade, Jim Quinn, Keith Van Nostrand and Ed Barna all had two hits for Conte's against Nassau Conover. John Ivors, Bryce Chase and Tony Boccanfuso collected two safeties apiece for the losers. Against Saturn, Bud Fowler had three hits and Eric Tucker, two, to lead Conte's.

Wanted: Dirty Cars

The PBA Youth Baseball League will hold a benefit car wash Saturday from 10 to 6 at the Cigo Service Station in the Princeton Shopping Center.

Proceeds will be used to buy equipment for the players.

Second place Teague and Hinds could only win one of its contests, lapsing Ivy Inn, 6-5, but adding to Nassau Conover, 19-9. John Bailey had two hits for Teague in the first game, and three more against Conover. Dick McGee hit a home run in the loss to Conover. Tom Brophy, Ivors and Bruce Sandvik led the Conover attack with ten hits between them.

The U-Store also split its pair, beating Ivy Inn, 19-1, after an 8-5 loss to Saturn. Bucky Melvin, Jim Hughes and Jerry Perpetua led the U-Store attack in the two games. Hughes had a four-bagger. Dave Britton had two hits for Ivy in its loss. For Saturn Tony Pirone had three hits and Albie Totto, two.

The Outlaws won their first game of the season, smashing Center Sports, 16-5. Rich Volz was five for five including a home run to lead the bandits, while Bob Freedman was four for five and Rick Hagadorn, three for three. John Fitzpatrick and Jay Davidson contributed five hits between them to a losing cause. Earlier in the week, Center Sports had won over Trotman's Stars, 8-5, with Hoyt Ellis going two for three.

The standings:

DO IT YOURSELF!

.. IT'S EASY TO WOOD PANEL ANY ROOM WITH

PRE-FINISHED

PLANKWELD

Ready-to-Install WELDWOOD PLYWOOD

1 Start paneling in corner. Nail down edge of first panel at corner end.

2 Insert metal clips in the outer edge groove. Nail clips to wall or stud.

3 Slip grooved edge of next panel into groove of first. Clips and nails are hidden.

Here is a beautiful wood paneling you can install yourself. Even if you aren't handy, you can panel a whole room in a few hours. And do a fine job, too.

Plankweld is Weldwood Plywood paneling. Faces are already finished — no painting or staining is needed. Panel edges are grooved to fit into each other; fastening is done with clips so nails do not show.

You can put Plankweld right over old walls — no furring or framing is needed. That's why Plankweld is such a wonderful material for remodeling. It's fine for new houses too. The panels are fastened directly to the studs.

By doing the job yourself you can panel any room you want to, and the whole cost will be the most price of Plankweld alone.

And — here's something you'll be glad to know — Plankweld is guaranteed for the life of your house. No more repair!

Come in to see Plankweld. We have it in fine handbooks. See how easy it is — and how inexpensive — to wood panel any room in your house.

Plankweld is 3/4" thick, in easy-to-handle panels 16 1/2" wide by 8 feet long.

WOMEN'S SINGLES FINALISTS: Finalists in the Princeton YMCA Women's Singles Tournament are Jackie Zinner (left), the winner, and Carla Gaiser. With them is William K. Selden, chairman of the Community Tennis Committee.

Sports In Princeton
up and down the Eastern seaboard will converge on Princeton.
Tournaments will be held for girls and boys 12 and under, and for girls and boys 14 and under. Sponsored by the U.S. TA, the tourney will qualify players for sectional rankings in the Middle States Lawn Tennis Association.

Those wishing to enter who have not yet sent in an entry blank should call William Humes, 168 S. Harrison Street, at 924-9187. Entries will be accepted through Saturday; the draw will be made on Sunday. Anyone who can offer housing for a few nights to players coming from outside the Princeton area should contact Mrs. Dede Webster of Brookstone Drive.
Co-chairmen of the event are Mrs. Lewis Kraft, director of the Princeton Community Tennis Program, and John Conroy, Princeton University tennis coach.

MRS. ZINNER WINS
In Women's Singles, A former Missouri state 18-and-under tennis champion, Mrs. Jackie Zinner, won the Princeton YMCA Women's Singles Tournament last week by defeating Carla Gaiser of Trenton, 6-2, 6-2.

In semi-final matches, Mrs. Zinner defeated Dorothy Corlette, 6-2, 6-0, and Miss Gaiser stopped Dorothy Katz of Pennington, 6-6, 6-2. The consolation round was won by 16-year-old Mary Ellen Hurst of Pennington, who defeated Carolyn Camper of Kendall Park, 7-5, 6-2. In all, 54 entries participated in the event.

Mrs. Zinner, a graduate of Washington University in St. Louis, and her husband, Ernst, a graduate student at Princeton University, are newcomers to Princeton. She started playing tennis at 11.

Jackie Zinner, who began her tennis playing at 16, has won the Trenton Women's Singles Tournament for the past three years.

MEN'S TENNIS TO START
Play Set This Weekend. The fifth annual Princeton Men's Tennis Tournament, singles and doubles, will be held at the Princeton University Courts, starting Friday. The final match will be played Sunday afternoon.

Among those who have already entered are Joseph Siz, former member of the Indonesian Davis Cup team; Walter Dolecek, former Yugoslavian player now attending Rutgers University on a fellowship; Dr. Donald Gorsheim, ranked in New England; and Dave Eddy, who is ranked in New York.

The public is invited to watch all the matches.

MEN'S SINGLES NEXT
In the series, The Princeton YMCA men's singles tournament will begin Monday. Those who are interested in playing must register before noon Sunday. Registration sheets will be posted at the YMCA, the Community Park Courts and the University Courts' Pagoda.

Now in progress is the men's doubles tourney, in which 38 teams are competing for the championship.

PRINCETONIAN FAVORED
In Stone Harbor Turney, Vickie Austin, a ninth grader at Princeton Day School, has been seeded no. one by the Middle States Lawn Tennis Association for the Stone Harbor Junior Championships now in progress. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fran Austin of North Road.

Vicki's best win this year was in the Keystone State Junior Championships held at Swarthmore, Pa., earlier this month, where she won the 14-and-under doubles. Her partner was Jan Bloodworth of Pipersville, Pa. In the same event, she was runner-up in the singles.
She was also a finalist in the Berk County Junior Championship and the Philadelphia District Girls Championship.

JUNIOR PLAYERS ACTIVE
In Tennis. Players from the Silver Cup and Community Park classes of the Princeton Community Tennis program, met 35 Lawrenceville Juniors last week in a three-hour "friendship match."

Participating from Princeton were: Chris Miller, David Bowen, Stuart Brown, Bill Von Oeshen, Jeff Smith, Steve Balcker, Sharon Baumer, Louise Savage, David Meyerhofer, Jon Arrington, Jeff Lyle, Julie Newton, Allison Donahue, Penny Henry, Polly Hunter, Claudie Schmidt, Stephanie Shoemaker, Beth Rimalover, Martin Read, Michael and Mark Noonan, Amy Luckner, Sophie Gorman.

Also, Mary Baumer, Danny Shulman, Jonathan Fluckner, Larry and Doug Ferguson, Allen Aronovic, Mike Redfield, Daniel Aronvic, Paul Kennan.

THE RUSSIAN JEWELS

Not too many know of the existence of the Soviet Union's Diamond Fund. This is a fantastic underground depository where some of the most famous diamonds in the world are kept — the "Orlov," 186 carats; the "Shah," 88.70 carats; "Russian Table Portrait Diamonds," in which one can see their own reflection in the 7.5 square centimeter area; the "Maria," 106 carats, and the recently added "Ganyak," 41 carats.

In addition to these diamonds, there are colored gems including a 412.5 carat spinel of fine color, and the unique 7.0 x 4.7 centimeter chrysoeolite, the precious trophy brought from Palestine by the Crusaders. There are also impressively large and precious emeralds and the world's largest and most beautiful Ceylonese sapphire. This particular gem is set in a huge brooch of gold, silver, sapphire, diamonds and roses.

The history of the Soviet Union Diamond Fund began in 1922 following the Revolution when the royal treasures were brought in boxes from Petrograd to Moscow. They contained 3 crowns, 9 regalia, a chain, orb, scepter, 23 stars and crosses, for a total diamond weight of 55,300 carats. Since that time, Russian diamond fields have yielded hundreds of thousands of new crystals to the collection where total value is a mystery today. Some call it "the world's wealth of diamonds of gems."

Yes, diamonds and fine gem stones have always been among the world's treasures. If you are interested in adding to your own collection, please stop in and see us for helpful advice at any time.

People In The News

Arthur E. Ware, 67 Jefferson Road, a teacher of social studies at Princeton High School, is attending the 1969 Institute in American Politics at the Rutgers University Summer Session in New Brunswick.

The institute, which started July 7 and will continue through August 15, is designed to provide new types of information, insights, and skills to teachers of social studies.

Brenda Williamson, niece of George Clark Wynn, of Titusville, is the 3rd recipient of the Hopewell Valley American Legion Post 339 $300 scholarship award. She graduated from Hopewell Valley Central High School in Pennington and plans to attend Trenton State College in the fall.

While at Hopewell Valley, she was active in the Art Club, Girls' Athletic League, yearbook staff, class play staff and Reading Club.

Glenn E. Underwood, 48 Jefferson Road, was presented with the Teacher of Teachers Award at Rutgers University. This award is sponsored by the National Vocational Agricultural Teachers Association and is awarded in recognition of the recipient's assistance in training and developing teachers of vocational agriculture.

James M. Orr, 310 Hale Street, Pennington, has been named to the newly created position of director of academic advisement and evaluation at Trenton State College. Mr. Orr is an associate professor of student personnel services and served as TSC registrar from 1957-67.

In his new post, he will revise the advisement system at the college. He will also be responsible for keeping faculty advisers and students informed on curriculum requirements and modifications and will supervise the evaluation of records of all students to determine their standing.

Professor Orr is a graduate of Muskingum College and holds graduate degrees from the University of Pittsburgh and Yale University.

Dr. Roman Smoluchowski, Professor of Solid State Sciences at Princeton University, is serving as Chairman of the National Research Council's Division of Physical Sciences, which correlates the activities of various Research Council committees advisory to the Federal Government and the programs of international organizations in the areas of physics, astronomy and geophysics.

Professor Paul Edward Gray, 29-year-old Assistant Professor of English at Princeton University, is the editor of the newly published "Twentieth Century Interpretations" of Charles Dickens' "Hard Times." The collection of critical essays, including studies by George Bernard Shaw and George Orwell, is the most recent addition to a series of modern commentary on great works of literature published by Prentice-Hall Inc.

Dr. W. Arthur Lewis, Professor of Economics and International Affairs at Princeton University, who was called to Princeton in 1963 while serving as Vice-Chancellor of the University of the West Indies, has been elected a Trustee of the University of Rochester.

We introduced it in 1956, and in 12 years we haven't changed a line of its classic design or varied the quality of its workmanship. Thirty-one players from the Seabright Tennis and Cricket Club were scheduled to come to Princeton Wednesday to meet the Gold and Silver Cup squads. Next Wednesday, July 30, the Spring Lake Bath and Tennis Club will be here for matches.
Assistance will be needed to provide lunch and refreshments for the Seabright and Spring Lake groups. Anyone who wishes to help should call Mrs. Lewis Kraft, Ridgeview Road, at 924-4737.
NAVY DEFEATS BLUE
For Lacrosse Lead, Navy won the battle of the unbeaten last week in the Princeton Summer Lacrosse League, defeating Blue, 7-3.
Bob Walter was the big man for Navy with three goals. Steve Peters, Ken Davies, Edward Woodson and Matt Alexander added single tallies. Navy is now 3-0.
Scoring single goals for Blue were Pete Wykoff, Bob Reish and John Pettit.
In the other game, Maroon overwhelmed Red, 14-2, behind the four goal scoring of Dave Kestel, Don Pettit and John Steiger each had a pair for the victors. Phil Lampen scored both Red goals. Lacrosse commissioner Hawley Waterman has announced that games for the older, more experienced players have been scheduled at Fairlawn for the coming weekend and with Philadelphia last the following weekend, August 2.
Because of the interest in last week's contests, cars spilled out of the Marquand Park lot onto Lover's Lane, where parking is illegal. Police have warned Waterman that next time, they will ticket the offenders.

Waterman suggested that players double up if they plan to drive, or park on Hilbren Road and walk through the park.
THREE STILL TIED
For BM, Lead in West, Columbia Carbon, RCA Labs A and NCA all won again last week, and remained in a tie for first place in the western division of the Business Softball League. However, the inter-division games played this week were expected to shake the standings up somewhat.
NCA kept its share with a 6-1 trouncing of Dow Jones, while Carbon soundly defeated RCA Astro, 11-5, and RCA A whitewashed Hopewell TV, 15-0. Leading the Carbon attack with three safeties apiece were Jim Weidenhafer, Al Rizzer and Jack Sheldon.
Sheldon, incidentally, leads the league in hitting with a fantastic .708 average, followed by Chris Ricker with .628. Bruce Belovin of McGraw-Hill and Bob Allen of ERC are tied for third at .600. Wally Reichert chalked up his fourth win against no losses for RCA A, backed up by Doug Bosonworth and Ron Infanti, who each collected three hits, and Phil Moody, John Mayer and Verg Bentivoglio with two each. The latter two and Infanti hit home runs.
Over in the east, McGraw-Hill and Accelerator waltzed through a couple of easy victories. Led by Larry Lee and Marty Mickio at the plate, McGraw-Hill whipped ERC 13-2, dropping the losers into a tie for fourth. Tom Wood and Barry Bromell slammed home runs for the winners.
Accelerator showed no mercy against winless EMR, piling up 31 runs on 34 hits for a 31-7 triumph. It was the kind of game where Barry Hibbs had a perfect five for five at the plate with two doubles, and had to take second billing to Eric Bergstrom, who had six for six, including a brace of two-buggers and a triple. Jay Parks had four for four with a home run and another pair of doubles.
Continuing its determined bid for a playoff spot, RCA B took care of another team blocking its way to fourth place, knocking off FMC. RCA B is now tied for fourth with ERC, and the two will meet next Tuesday in an important contest, which could determine who enters the playoffs.
Tom Ward turned in a fine relief job for RCA B, entering the game in the third inning after FMC had scored six runs. Ward put out the fire and held FMC in check the rest of the way, while his mates halted their way to 10-9 win. Ed Krieger had three hits while Ron Benetich, Bob Krieger and Gene Polimac contributed two apiece.

Port Mercer won 5-1. In West Windsor Tennis, Jack McCarthy and Jim Shea representing Port Mercer won the first half of the West Windsor evening doubles adult tennis league. The pair compiled nine points during its matches, the same number as Grovers Mill and Penns Neck, but was awarded first on the basis of matches between the two teams. Grovers Mill was second and Penns Neck, third.
The tie was brought about when Penns Neck's Whitney Martindale and Cliff Crawford defeated Shea and McCarthy, 6-4, 6-6, 6-4. Edinburg finished fourth with six points. Dutch Neck, fifth with four, and Berrien City sixth with two, and Clarksville, last with no points.
Other matches this past week saw Edinburg's Tony Zuccarello and Bob Pearce beat Clarksville's Dick Dearborn and Bill Christensen 6-1, 6-2. Berrien City's Bernie Mockler and Cliff Crawford upset Dutch Neck's Sam Shuren and Jay Seton 5-7, 6-2, 6-3 and Princeton Junction's Brad Craig and Jim Shea beat Grovers Mill's Jack Bear and Bert Middleton 6-0, 6-0.

1ST PLACE JAMMED
In West Windsor Lacrosse, four teams are tied for first place with 1-1 records after one week in the second half of the West Windsor Babe Ruth League's season.
Lucar Hardware, first-place champions, defeated Mackenzie Realty, 7-3, and lost 3-1, to the Lions Club. Two triples by Kevin Tytus, a triple and single by John Schumacher and two singles by Mike Bern slaked Lucar pitcher Larry Fowler to the win over Mackenzie. Greg Christensen had three singles for the losers.
In the second half opener, Lucar of the Lions Club led Lucar to a pair of hits—singles by Tytus and Fowler. The Lions reached Tytus for three hits, one each by Larry Martz, Richie Wilson and Wayne Wilcox.
Mackenzie won its opener by defeating Will's Shell, 6-3. Pitcher Pete Ziegler had a 6-0 bulge until the final inning when Will's scored all its runs, but he managed to hang on for the win. Ziegler threw out the last batter himself.
Will's was on the right side of a one-run game when it edged Lions, 7-6. Mark Ellis won'ts a timely single drove in the two runs that won the game. Grover Servis chipped in with a pair of singles.

Marty Clark, Dennis Clark and Rickie Rogers had two hits each for Lions. Mike Carlucci was the winning pitcher.
After five weeks without a win, Finnerholm found the right combination, besting Shell Chemical, 11-6. Chuck Raspola led Finnerholm with three hits. Bob Porawski had three hits including a round-tripper for Shell.
In other games, Cyanamid nipped ETS, 11-4, and moved into third place, and Hopewell TV won a make-up game with Dow Jones, 12-11.
WEST WINDSOR PREVAILS
8-7 in Babe Ruth Game. In its first game under the lights this year, the West Windsor Senior Babe Ruth team outlasted Lawrence, 8-7, last week on the losers' field.
The last inning was action-packed. West Windsor scored three runs to take an 8-3 lead, only to see Lawrence rally for four. The tying run was thrown out at the plate by West Windsor's second baseman, Rich Boykin.
Winning pitcher Jeff Haring was even more effective as a hitter, connecting for a double and two singles in four trips to the plate. Gary Toot

The House you were Going to build
Some day.

Some day could be now. In fact, it could be soon after you've seen these lovely 3 1/2 acre plots at Lake Carnegie. And the house will be custom built by Sandeem to match your dreams. It will take only $55,000 to make some day come true.

Practically Princeless; Township (Princeton place and address); Shagleg Cape Cod on approximately 1 1/2 landscaped acres. Living room with fireplace, separate dining room, kitchen, 2 bedrooms, full basement, 2 car garage. Good expansion possibilities.
$39,500

There is a pretty house, on a very pretty street, within your price range in Princeton Township. It has a family room with fireplace, laundry room, storage room, living room with fireplace, 3 bedrooms, and 1 1/2 baths. PLUS central air conditioning. $45,000

Once upon a time houses were built as soundly as this one as a matter of course - however, times have changed and they just don't make them like they used to. In Princeton Township, a stucco Colonial.
It is a residence plus an apartment. It can be used as a one family house. All in all it has living room with fireplace, master bedroom and study or second bedroom, kitchen, heated sun porch and bath as one living unit. The other has a separate entrance, 3 bedrooms and a family room. There is a full basement and a 2 car garage. All this is on an excellent lot and is certainly pleasing to the eye. $59,900

In Longacres, Lawrence Township we have a custom-built family room with fireplace and sliding doors to terrace which is covered and has a bar-b-q built into a brick wall, paneled bar with sink, laundry room, dry basement and wine cellar. The second level has an oversize living room with fireplace, dining room, kitchen with built-ins and eating area and powder room. Up a circular staircase to the master bedroom with doors to sun deck and full bath with sunken tub. 2 car attached garage, three zone heat and central air conditioning. $79,900

PRINCETON TOWNSHIP. A Swiss architect designed this house for a family with lots of living to do. Gracious, exciting and uniquely spaced, this unusual contemporary is set on 2 beautifully wooded acres and contains a large brick-floored living room and carpeted Lounge, divided by a dining area. The living room is enhanced by a slate-faced, double fireplace also opening up into the kitchen. Master bedroom with large closets has its private and charming patio, of which there are two more. 5 more bedrooms, 2 Baths (with room for third), playroom with bookcases, brick-walled study with skylight. The sunny, gay lightness of this beautiful home is contrasted by the warmth given every room by the exposed brick-walls, which characterizes this house as one of the most unique buys of all time. $89,500
